SES crowned at the H&V News Awards 2010 in two categories

SES is proud to announce that it picked up two awards at this year's H&V News Awards ceremony, which was held at the Grosvenor House Hotel in London on 29th April. The leading, building services contractor won "Contractor of the Year" for its overall performance and "Project of the Year" for its involvement in a complex pharmaceutical project in Cheshire.

The H&V News Awards are the most prestigious awards for the heating and ventilation industries, recognising companies for their skill and innovation. The judging panel decided that SES deserved to win the Contractor of the Year category for demonstrating that it was "a model business, successful because it was customer focused throughout".

Talking about the Project of the Year category, judges commented that SES had shown "truly exceptional skill in keeping the project to budget and time scales in a challenging environment".

The Awards proved to be a fantastic night, bringing together over 800 of the H&V industry's professionals to honour those who have performed outstandingly over the last year. Comedian, Hugh Dennis from Outnumbered and Mock the Week hosted the ceremony.
